Charles Darwin's house

Good afternoon, my name's Pamela and I'm your guide for (1) visit to Down House and gardens. Please follow me. Charles Darwin lived here for 40 years with (2) family until his death in 1882. He had 10 (3), many of whom became famous. We are now in Darwin's study with his writing desk and his famous microscope. There are also (4) couple of measuring instruments from (5) period on the desk. (6) is his favourite chair over there near the fireplace and (7) are some of his red notebooks on the small table near the window. In the corner is (8) old globe. Now please follow me into the billiard room where Darwin relaxed. Here you can see his old bookcase. In the hall are some paintings of the family and over there is the dining room with (9) bay windows and (10) very large table in the middle. A lot of famous (11) from London visited him in his country residence. It was (12) honour to have dinner with the Darwin family in this room. Upstairs in the former bedrooms there is now (13) interactive exhibition on Darwin's life, research and various (14). Now let's go outside to see the numerous rose gardens and (15). What (16) beautiful day it is to be here! Follow me around the "sand walk" where Darwin walked three times (17) day to digest and to think. After this walk you can have tea and (18) in the new café which was the original kitchen and then visit the shop on the ground floor.

Dear _____ (scrivi il tuo nome),

Thanks for your e-mail. It's school holidays this week.

My family usually goes on holiday to my uncle's house in France when we've got a holiday. It's cool. When we go to France Chloe and I and our cousin, Ben, go swimming every day, and we ride our bikes. Mum and dad sometimes go for long walks and in the evenings we always cook in the garden and play family games. But it isn't possible this year. I play the saxophone in an orchestra and we've got a big concert on Wednesday. Mum and dad and Chloe always come to watch me. Chloe does gymnastics. She's very good and her team is in a competition on Friday.

What do you do when you are on holiday? Please write soon.

Love,
Jack
